Brief Bio

Louisiana son, Erik Kieseletter, is a multi-discipline graphic designer and aesthetician, addicted to americanos, heavy plate lunches, collecting books/ journals, kittens, and diamonds.

Creative director of EBSL/ erikbelowsealevel.com, a freelance-design studio that collaborates with various design agencies and collectives, guiding branding, print and web projects.

Arts organization founder and co-editor of Constance/ weareconstance.org, a New Orleans arts and literary publication.

Currently enjoys exhibition design, working closely with artists within their environments.

He has most recently started a non-profit organization, Port of Resolution: Postmedium/ postmedium.org that provides web applications to artists and galleries in need within the New Orleans area.
